

Energy Efficiency and Conservation Plan for the Physician Manpower Training Commission

The Physician Manpower Training Commission owns no buildings or vehicles; therefore, it has no final say concerning the use or conservation of energy and fuel utilized by such properties.

The Physician Manpower Training Commission will use the most energy efficient office products available through the state purchasing contract.

Rick Ernest, Executive Director
Physician Manpower Training Commission
November 3, 2009